List honors you have received, such as scholarships, fellowships, election to honor societies, etc. (attach additional sheet if necessary).
The Office of Financial Aid only provides assistance with U.S. government sources of funding which are available only to U.S. Citizens and Permanent Residents. Inquiries concerning financial aid may be sent to: The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, Student and non-U.S. Permanent Residents interested in graduate studies in Molecular Biophysics should consider applying to the T.C. Jenkins Biophysics Department.

If accepted to a Ph.D. program, applicants unable to obtain external support may be considered for financial aid in the form of a stipend and health insurance. The stipend for the 2018-2019 academic year is $32,894.00 (unless otherwise noted*). The tuition is $53,400.00

*Applicants accepted to the Medical and Biological Illustration, History of Medicine, Applied Health Sciences Informatics, Applied Health Sciences Informatics (Online MS), Health Science Informatics, and the Post Baccalaureate Certificate in Clinical Informatics programs should contact the programs directly for specific information regarding funding.

International applicants please note - most financial assistance provided by the School of Medicine is federal financial assistance available only to U.S. Citizens and Permanent Residents. International applicants who are not U.S. Citizens or Permanent Residents are not eligible for U.S. government funding. For this reason, we strongly advise international students to apply for external funding. The Office of Financial Aid only provides assistance with U.S. government sources of funding which are available only to U.S. Citizens and Permanent Residents. Inquiries concerning financial aid may be sent to: The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, Student Financial Aid Services, Reed Hall, 1620 McElderry St., Suite 427, Baltimore, MD 21205-1911, or telephone (410) 614-3450 Email: finaid@jhmi.edu

ADDITIONAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR INTERNATIONAL APPLICANTS TO THE PROGRAM IN MOLECULAR BIOPHYSICS:

A training grant from the National Institutes of Health provides the first two years of tuition and stipend support for graduate students in the Program in Molecular Biophysics. However, this support is limited to U.S. Citizens and Permanent Residents. Non-U.S. Citizens and non-U.S. Permanent Residents interested in graduate studies in Molecular Biophysics should consider applying to the T.C. Jenkins Biophysics Department.

BACKGROUND CHECKS: It is the policy of the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine that all incoming members to the community, including faculty, students, and staff, must undergo criminal background checks. As a result, applicants admitted to a graduate program will undergo a criminal background check prior to matriculation. In the event of an unsatisfactory finding, the School of Medicine may withdraw its offer of admission. If you wish to disclose any offense that may be revealed by this procedure, we invite you to do so at this time on a separate attachment.

I affirm that the information on this application form, and any additional information that I submit related to the admissions process, is complete, accurate, and true to the best of my knowledge and contains no significant omissions. I understand that providing false statements or omitting material information on any part of this application may be cause for denial of admission, cancellation of registration, expulsion from the University, or revocation of a degree.

No student will be allowed to matriculate until the School of Medicine has received proof of graduation and an official transcript from an accredited undergraduate program.

If I am admitted to study at the Johns Hopkins University, I agree that I will honor the University’s academic and ethical standards and that I will abide by all requirements established by the University concerning academic progress, health and conduct. I agree that the University may dismiss any student whose academic standing is unacceptable or whose general conduct jeopardizes the community or is otherwise unacceptable.

Date __________________ Signature of Applicant

To be completed only by the Degree Program or Committee: I approve the admission of the above named as a student in the Program of ____________________________ and recommend acceptance.

Date __________________ Signature ____________________________
Colleges and universities are required by the federal government to report their number of female and male applicants. This information will not be used in making any admission decision, and all information is confidential.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS: Requirements specific to each program are noted in The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine Catalog and the graduate program website: http://www.hopkinsmedicine.org/som/students/graduate-programs/welcome/programs. Questions can be resolved by contacting the program to which you are applying (see graduate program website for contact information).

PERSONAL STATEMENT: Please provide a typewritten statement (one-page maximum) indicating the basis of your interest in graduate study and your career objectives. Please include a discussion of any research experience you have had. If you are applying to more than one program, only one statement is required.

The XDBio program* requires three (3) personal statements (1 page each): 1) Describe your academic and scientific background and how XDBio fits your research and career interests; 2) A description of your research experience with at least one project described in detail; 3) A description of proposed future research directions for the project described in your research experience.

CURRICULUM VITAE: A Curriculum Vitae is required for applicants to the Biochemistry, Cellular and Molecular Biology, Functional Anatomy and Evolution, History of Medicine, all Health Sciences Informatics programs (MS and PhD), and the XDBio graduate program*, and is optional for all other programs (2-page maximum).

TRANSFERS: Applicants desiring to transfer from another school must be in good standing at the school previously attended.

APPLICATION DEADLINES: Applications and supporting documents must be received by the dates listed below:

December 1
- Biochemistry, Cellular and Molecular Biology
- Biomedical Engineering
- Immunology
- Neuroscience
- Program in Molecular Biophysics
- XDBio – Cross-Disciplinary Graduate Program in Biomedical Sciences* (*Pending MHEC approval)

December 2
- Pathobiology

December 8
- Cellular and Molecular Medicine
- Pharmacology and Molecular Sciences

December 15
- Human Genetics and Molecular Biology

December 31
- Cellular and Molecular Physiology

January 4
- Biological Chemistry

January 10
- Functional Anatomy and Evolution

January 15
- History of Medicine

February 1
- Applied Health Sciences Informatics (MS)
- Applied Health Sciences Informatics (Online MS)
- Health Sciences Informatics (PhD)
- Health Sciences Informatics (MS)
- Post Baccalaureate Certificate in Clinical Informatics

February 21
- Medical and Biological Illustration (MA) – Art Portfolios and Applicant Profiles due January 15

APPLICATION FEES: Application fees are non-refundable and receipt is required before an application can be processed. The fee schedule is indicated below. You must pay the fee by credit card at the time of application. Paper applications are available upon request. Please be advised not all programs accept paper applications and the fees are higher than the online application. You may contact the Office of Graduate Student Affairs for the paper application and fee schedule: gradsoff@jhmi.edu.

Information regarding reduced application fees and fee waivers can be found on the School of Medicine graduate program website: http://www.hopkinsmedicine.org/som/students/graduate-programs/admissions/application.html
The application process is completed entirely online. You can upload all of your supporting application materials to the online application. If you are applying to more than one program, only one application and one complete set of supporting materials is required. We encourage you to submit your completed application early – before the deadline.

SAMPLES OF WORK: History of Medicine requires a thesis, publication, writing sample, or term paper. Please upload the sample of work to the Supplemental Application Information section of the application. Medical & Biological Illustration requires an Art Portfolio and Applicant Profile, due January 15th to the website: https://hopkinsmedart.slideroom.com/ (open November 1st to January 15th).

TRANSCRIPTS: Transcripts of all college and university study (undergraduate and graduate) are required and must be uploaded to the application. If you have attended more than one institution, transcripts from each institution must be received for your application to be considered complete. Applicants should also upload a list of any current courses, and courses that will be taken before beginning graduate study that do not appear on their transcripts in the Supplemental Application Information section. When the courses are completed, official transcripts can be uploaded to the online application in the Post Submission section, Fall Transcript Upload field when they become available, after you submit. Do not mail documents to the Office of Graduate Student Affairs unless requested or admitted.

- International transcripts must be officially translated into English.
- If grades from a course are reported on another institution’s transcript, please notify the Office of Graduate Student Affairs so that we can be certain your status is correctly updated in the system (gradsoff@jhmi.edu)
- Scan your transcript in the lowest possible resolution. The document should not exceed 2500kb.
- View the document to ensure that it is legible. Illegible documents will not be accepted and will delay the processing of your application.
- If admitted, official transcripts from each institution showing proof of graduation and degree conferred will be required prior to matriculation.

To be considered official, final transcripts must be sent: 1) by mail, directly from the institution in a sealed envelope, to the Office of Graduate Student Affairs, or 2) through a secure reporting service (ex: Parchment, Credentials eScriptSafe, National Student Clearinghouse (JHU SOM Graduate Student Affairs - 207706gs). We cannot accept electronic transcripts sent via regular email from registrars, or third-party entities in any other format, such as email links or links to secure website. Please direct electronic transcripts to the email: gradsoff@jhmi.edu

LETTERS OF RECOMMENDATION: Letters of recommendation must be submitted through the online recommendation system. Applicants will need to obtain the name and email address of their recommenders when completing the application. Please request your letters of recommendation from faculty members or other professionals who are acquainted with you and your academic work. These letters should comment on your aptitude and promise for independent research.

The School of Medicine graduate programs require three letters of recommendation. The Post Baccalaureate Certificate in Clinical Informatics requires two letters of recommendation.

Applicants to the Medical and Biological Illustration program must obtain a letter from faculty members in both Science and Art.

GRADUATE RECORD EXAMINATION AND TEST OF ENGLISH AS A FOREIGN LANGUAGE: INSTITUTION CODE 5316
Applicants should request the results of the GRE and TOEFL test be sent directly to Johns Hopkins University PhD Medicine 5316. The Department Code is not necessary. You must take the GRE/TOEFL in sufficient time for the score reports to reach us by the application deadline. Scores received after the application deadline may result in your application status being incomplete. Test scores reported to the wrong Institution Code must be re-sent to the correct code 5316. You may submit your application prior to taking the tests and we will match the official score report to your file when it becomes available.

The Applied Health Sciences Informatics, Health Sciences Informatics (MS and PhD), and Certificate in Clinical Informatics programs have specific requirements for the GRE. Please review the program websites for a complete list of requirements.

The GRE exam is optional for the Biochemistry, Cellular & Molecular Biology, Cellular and Molecular Medicine, Neuroscience, Program in Molecular Biophysics, and XDBio* graduate programs. The admission committee will make no assumptions if a GRE score is omitted from an application, but inclusion of a good score may improve the application package of a candidate with deficiencies in some areas.

Our programs do not require the GRE Subject test; however, applicants are encouraged to submit scores.

ENGLISH PROFICIENCY SCORES: TOEFL INSTITUTION CODE 5316. TOEFL or IELTS scores are required for international applicants. The TOEFL requirement will be waived if you have completed your degree in a U.S. institution, or are currently enrolled and will receive a degree from a university within the U.S. prior to matriculation at JHU-SOM. To report official IELTS test scores, please include the Test Report Form (TRF) verification number on the application.

Medical College Admissions Test: MCAT scores are not required. Some programs will accept the MCAT in place of the GRE; please contact them directly to inquire. Contact information is available on the graduate program website: www.hopkinsmedicine.org/som/students/graduate-programs/welcome/contact.html If you plan to submit MCAT scores, please upload a copy of the official results, including verification code, to the application.

The Johns Hopkins University is committed to equal opportunity for its faculty, staff, and students. To that end, the university does not discriminate on the basis of sex, gender, marital status, pregnancy, race, color, ethnicity, national origin, age, disability, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, veteran status or any other legally protected characteristic. The university is committed to providing qualified individuals access to all academic and employment programs, benefits, and activities based on demonstrated ability, performance and merit without regard to personal factors that are irrelevant to the program involved.
